"If my life is going to mean anything, I have to live it myself." Rick Riordan

Words from our Founder!

I love Mother's Day!

I would like to declare Mother's Day 365. Mothers should be celebrated every single day – all year long. But all that celebrating would probably tire us out and break the budget, as I chuckle at the thought of the ideal.

Seriously, what does motherhood mean? Well, many believe that mothers are that one person closest to the heart of God or otherwise known as God's Angels. When I think of these precious sentiments that are noteworthy of a mother, I reflect upon my own.

My mother was notorious for giving us food for thought and she had a story to share about everything known to mankind. As I reflect, my mom was the smartest, wisest person in the world within our household. There were always moments of lessons to learn and grow towards in every situation and circumstance. If Mama gave us three cookies, it turned into a math equation of 1+2 or 7-4. Such lessons that I have the honor to extend to my children and now grandchildren. I find myself doing the same with my grandchildren as they proclaim as another “teachable moment.”

As I prepared this segment of words for the reader, I came across this poignant read from a mother. Like our own mothers, Mother Teresa, known as a Saint and a Hero to the nation provided these words of wisdom or “teachable moments” that are very relevant today. And it reads as such:

People are often unreasonable, illogical, and self-centered. Forgive them anyway.
If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish ulterior motives. Be kind anyway.
If you are successful, you will win some false friends and some true enemies. Succeed anyway.
If you are honest and frank, people may cheat you. Be honest and frank anyway.
What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight. Build anyway.
If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous. Be happy anyway.
The good you do today, people will often forget tomorrow. Do good anyway.
Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough. Give the best you've got anyway.

You see,
in the final analysis it is between you and God;
it was never between you and them anyway.

A Mother's Love

A Mother's love is something that no one can explain,
It is made of deep devotion and of sacrifice and pain,
It is endless and unselfish and enduring come what may,
For nothing can destroy it or take that love away...
It is patient and forgiving when all others are forgiving,
And it never fails or falters even though the heart is breaking,
It believes beyond believing when the world around
condemns,
And it glows with all the beauty of the rarest, brightest gems.

It is far beyond defining, it defies all explanation,
And it still remains a secret like the mysteries of creation,
A many-splendored miracle man cannot understand.
And another wondrous evidence of God's tender guiding hand.
